

I understand that the FCC is looking into introducing a new broadcast service called LPFM which will take priority over current FM translator services. The radio station I listen to is K-LOVE which is heard around the country and around the world. Wherever I go in Oregon and other places I can receive this radio station. This radio station has helped 1000's of people come to the Lord through their ministry of music and prayer. This station is fully funded by listener support, and as a supporter of this radio station - I feel that I would be losing something very valuable if this station is taken off the air or given less priority than the new LPFM stations. People have been saved from committing suicide by talking with the pastors on this station, marriages have been saved etc... please do not make this station less important - it is much more important than some people realize. Thank you for taking the time to read this.
